Thanks to Jim for filling in as photographer.

September is a busy month. Our September meeting is the SECOND Saturday, not the third as would be usual. That's because the third Saturday conflicts with the LI Woodworkers show, which will be held at the Cradle of Aviation Museum in Uniondale, and in which we will be participating.

About that: we have been asked to demonstrate at the show. We will have 3 lathes going (our Delta midis). We need participation from many of you, in 2-hour shifts. Paul is coordinating that, because I have another conflict - it is also the weekend of the Gallery North Outdoor Art Show in Setauket to which I and a couple of other members are committed. It is also the weekend of the Nassau County Fair at Old Bethpage Village Restoration, where we would normally demonstrate. We had to decline that one this year because of the Woodworkers show. If you are going to demonstrate at the Woodworkers show, bring your tools and turning blanks. You can turn anything - bowls, tops, honey dippers, etc., as long as you are showing what woodturning is about. (I would normally turn tops and give them to the kids).

On the 4th weekend, some of us will be going to Lancaster, PA to the 2022 Mid Atlantic Woodturners Symposium. The AAW symposium in Chattanooga, TN was too difficult to get to, but Lancaster is a do-able drive, and there will be many great demonstrators there. Early registration is closed, but there is still time to register. Symposia are a great way to jump-start your woodturning knowledge if you are a new turner, and a source of new ideas for everyone else. There is also a vender's area where you can get new tools and supplies. If you are interested, Google it for more information. And, if you are going, email me (woodartist@optonline.net) so we can organize carpools.

I look forward to seeing you all at Northport HS on September 10th. Happy turning - Barry S
